The Latest News.

The Seventh Congressional Democratic District Committee met at Frankfort, yesterday afternoon, to name the time and manner of nominating a successor to Congressman South Trimble. It was decided that a convention should be held in Lexington, on May 12, and county conventions on May 10.

The candidates now mentioned are South Trimble, Pres. Kimball, J. Campbell Cantrill and S. E. Dehaven. Trimble favored primary and the action of the committee gives him a black eye.

General Wood cabled news of a bloody engagement with Philippine Insurgents in which entire Filipino force was exterminated.

May wheat dropped to $1 at Chicago. There is also a decline in May pork.

Samuel Morningstar, father of R. E. Morningstar, the popular Secretary of the Kentucky Press Association, is at the point of death at Louisville.

Librarian Elected.

At a meeting of Trustees of the Library, last night, Miss Celeste Lucas was elected to the office by a unanimous vote.

The Trustees organized as follows: Dr. Wm. Kenney, one year term; Dr. C. G. Daugherty, two; James O'Brien, three; R. K. McCarney, four; W. W. Mitchell, four. Mr. O'Brien was elected President and Dr. C. G. Daugherty, Secretary.

Miss Lucas' assistant will be chosen later provided the fund permits.

Miss Margaret Woods was elected janitor.

THERE is no use to pay advance prices on goods when you can get it at Harry Simon's at the old prices.

STONE BLIND.—George Davis, colored, employed at Buck Run Stock Farm, in Woodford county, and who is one of the most efficient groomers in Kentucky is totally blind. He feeds, waters and rubs a number of horses every day, moving in and out of the various stalls without ever making a mistake. Davis frequently rides horseback alone to Versailles, a distance of four miles, and has never met with an accident. He has been blind since childhood.

A Shame and Disgrace.

We had occasion on Saturday to attend a burial at the Paris Cemetery, and found that our reference to the condition of Main street, last week, was put mildly. It is a disgrace to our city, and a disgrace to Bourbon County, for we understand, from reliable source, that the farther you go the worse the Lexington pike gets. Our informant says that upon the darkest night you could tell when you strike the Fayette line. From the Bourbon and Fayette line on into Lexington the pike is in excellent condition, but when you come this way the pike is no more or less than a miserable mud road the worst of repair. Surley somebody is not doing their duty. It is a shame that the press is compelled to speak of these deplorable state of affairs before officials get a move on themselves.

Since our last mention of this matter, the City Council has ordered suit brought against the Interurban for damages for the condition of Main street, and gave them until Friday to make good. There is no use dallying with corporations—tighten the screws at once and they will come to time.

It is a difficult matter for a funeral procession to get to the cemetery to bury our dead. Saturday three wagons were stuck hnb deep in the mud on South Main at same time, one of them across the Interurban track. When it comes to be almost an impossibility to reach the city of the dead in vehicles on the main thoroughfare of our city, it is time to knock and knock hard, regardless of who the shoe pinches.

Arrested For Lunacy.

Tom Wheeler, colored, who conducts a restaurant on Eighth street, struck his wife, Belle Wheeler, cutting a deep gash in her head Saturday, and when Chief of Police Hill went to arrest him he was informed by Wheeler that he would have to kill him before taking him. Mr. Hill saw at a glance that he was dealing with a lunatic and came down to the County Judge's office and secured a writ of lunacy for him. On returning he took Officer Bishop along, and they met Wheeler and explained to him in a quiet way that they were befriending him and he quietly accompanied them to jail. He stopped once and told he was going to whip both of them, but the commenced talking to him about when he was in the navy and he proceeded without any trouble. He and his wife are both well known to our citizens as respectable colored people. He is a powerful man physically, and would have given the police some trouble if they had not used a little strategy.

FOR SALE.—Second-hand piano. Apply at this office.

Let the Good Work Go On.

The city fathers did well on Thursday night, and seemed to wake from the Rip Van Winkle sleep they have been taking for some time, and acted wisely in going after the Paris Water Company and the Interurban road, two steps that THE NEWS has been urging them to take for several months.

Now, let us have a reorganization of the Fire Department. The Department has all of the late up-to-date equipments—except a ladder wagon—it has as good men for driver of the chemical wagon and city electrician as could be found in Kentucky or any other State, but there is no head to the department. No Chief for months, no driver for hose wagon for months. No better work could be desired than is done by the few that now compose the company, but why wait until a big fire gets under headway and burns down half the town before the gentlemen who compose the committee bring this matter up before the Council. Our insurance rates are as high as a "cat's back" now, and why delay this matter any longer.

Burglars Still Here.

Burglars are still in our city and we are afraid some one will meet with the same fate of the two thieves who were killed in Fayette, Saturday night, if they do not let up on their nefarious work. On Saturday night, Mr. Henry Mitchell, who lives on Ferguson street, was awakened about one o'clock by a window being raised. In going into the room he found the window up and a big buck negro, with a baseball bat in his hand, which he dropped, about to enter. Upon the appearance of Mr. Mitchell, he ran and could easily have been dropped, but Mr. M. did not have a firearm in his house. He invites the midnight marauder to make him a return visit, as he would like to try the new Winchester now standing by his bed.

When Will Gibson Return?

THE NEWS stated that Contractor Gibson, the Court House Man, would return last week, but he didn't. Our information came from a reliable source, as we thought. But now we have it from the same source that they don't know when he will return. It has been claimed all along that the Court-house would be ready to hold the June term of our Circuit Court—probably they meant June term, 1905. It looks that way to a man up a tree. The question that is agitating the Court House Committee is, "When will Gibson return?" Echo answers, that he is a newly made benedict, give him a chance, he may return in the "good old Summer time."

Daughters of Confederacy.

The Daughters of the Confederacy met with Mrs. R. J. Neely, on Duncan avenue, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Vansant gave an interesting description of the battle of Chancellorsville. Mrs. Short read a sketch on the early life of Jefferson Davis in Kentucky. Mrs. C. M. Thomas read a beautiful short poem written by Stonewall Jackson. Miss Washington sang "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia." Delightful refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed. The chapter continues to grow, four new members having been added at this meeting.

Operations For Appendicitis.

Dr. J. S. Wallingford, of this city, and Dr. B. M. Ricketts, of Cincinnati, operated on Mrs. Stafford, aged 64 years, for appendicitis at her home near Jacktown. She is being attended by Miss Horton, the professional nurse, and doing nicely. Mrs. L. D. Redmon and Mr. Sam Weathers, of this county, who were operated on for appendicitis, last week, at St. Joseph's Hospital, Lexington, by the above named surgeons, are out of danger and improving rapidly.

We Are Guilty.

Some kind friend sent us, anonymously, on yesterday, a diabolical, infernal machine, carefully inclosed in an envelope. It consisted in an ingenious pasteboard device with a flutter wheel propelled by a rubber band. When opened by our unsuspecting religious editor, the infernal machine sprang out and startled him out of a year's religion. And that's the reason we have a short religious department to-day. We suspect the jealous religious editor of our Broadway contemporary of inspiring, if not really being the perpetrator of the conspiracy. Meanwhile, we caught six mice in the editorial trap yesterday. No wonder they're jealous.—[Kentuckian-Citizen.]

Like Little George, we cannot tell a lie—we are guilty of the crime, and ask forgiveness. It had been so long since we read an original item in The Kentuckian-Citizen, and wishing to give them an opportunity used this little piece of strategy and perpetrated this outrage.

Ended Their Lives on Same Street Within 30 Minutes Time.

Two suicides occurred in Lexington, Saturday night, both on the same street and within a half hour of each other. Both were women, one being a well-known white woman and the other a colored domestic. The former was Miss Margaret Storey, aged 26 years, who swallowed an ounce of morphine in a fit of despondency occasioned by protracted illness. She had made a casual visit at the house of Mrs. Nugent, a friend, and while there she took the deadly drug which ended her life.

The other was Mattie Jackson, who was in the employ of William Porter, and who, after a quarrel with her lover, went to the laundry and drank a quart of concentrated lye, dying in great agony.
